Cross-Training for 4/12/2019

Developmental Education: Two Options
Most students are exempt, can opt out of any DevEd support.
Even those who are not exempt must be given options.

ENC0027: Introduction to College Reading and Writing (3 DevEd credit hours)
- Best Option for student known to be significantly weak
- Take Before ENC1101

ENC0055L: The English Studio (1 DevEd credit hour)
- Take concurrently with ENC1101
- Small group facilitation max at 12 students
- Each section includes Full-Term, A Term & B-Term [3 courses in PeopleSoft.]
- Grade based solely on Attendance
- Support for work in ENC1101 – not 0055L course work assigned.

English Composition Sequence:
Two Semesters of Composition for AA Students.

ENC1101: Introduction to Composition -- the “Gateway Course” in English.
- Nearly all students must take it. An important predictor of retention & success at the College.
- Pre-Requisite for lots of other courses.
- No longer includes the Research Paper

ENC1102: Writing with Research:
- Focus on Analytical, Persuasive, Research based projects.
- Research Paper taught here

Guaranteed Schedule: OnTime 2 & OnTime 3: Major Change this year!
- A True Cohort: Student must sign up for all three courses, cannot select just one.
- Advisors: Please just give students this schedule.
- OnTime3: 3 courses, one full-term, two accelerated Hybrid. 2 classes per day, two days/week.
- OnTime2: 3 courses as above, plus 2 electives = 5 courses, full-time student.

QUANTA/Honors Program: Give a big plug for that. Any bright student with a strong record should be encouraged to join QUANTA: great program, great instructors.

Literature Courses: DSC’s Gen Ed Humanities area requires 3 credits in a literature based course.
- LIT2000: Literature & Culture: State Side of the Menu
- LIT2110: World Lit I → Satisfies Global/Cultural
- LIT2120: World Lit II → satisfies Global/Cultural

Other courses offered in this Department: Limited by Staffing
